

Co-Coaching Services

You've built a thriving coaching business with top-tier programs and containers, and now it's time to increase your capacity by bringing support coaching that adds immense value and complements your area of expertise and philosophy.

You want someone to partner with you, who you can trust to have you and your clients' best interest at heart, rather than use your well-earned success as their own springboard and resume booster while they build their own programs up.

Let's be honest- this happens way too often in our space and that's not the experience I want you to have or that you deserve!

I am the GO-TO co-coach in the business coaching space because I bring 12+ years of expertise in business systems and scaling sustainably, paired with a priority on lifestyle design and prioritizing what matters when making strategic business decisions. And co-coaching is my PRIMARY coaching service! It's not an afterthought or stepping stone- it's what I love to do.

- I add value to high-end containers by:
- Guest speaking on podcasts, live streams, webinars
- Creating training modules and educational materials on a variety of business topics
- Live hot-seat coaching sessions and personalized coaching and feedback to the members

I have a ton of expertise in the practical aspects of business, from business model and pricing, to systems and automations, to hiring and leading a team, to the mindset around making decisions and thriving as a woman in business. I also run my own multi-six-figure business that I'm quite happy with (my fourth I've grown successfully), and have helped many others build theirs from brand new to over 7 figures.

Looking for a high-caliber contributing coach to your programs and containers?

Let's chat and see if we're a fit.